

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A web page architecture permits the selective reloading of frames so that only selected frames are reloaded, regardless of their membership in one or more framesets. A target frame in the web page is used as a work area, and a script associated the work area is executed to reload the selected frames.

5